Jones, of the 9th Field Battery, who was in the trenches for three months' furlough. The brother, who was leaving the trenches after 22 months' service, advised his younger brother to transfer to the battery, but he declined, saying that as the battery was more safe than the infantry, it was only fair to leave a place for the married men with children. ## THE RAILWAY EMPLOYEES REJECTED MEDIATION

Have Tried and Found It a Failure — Companies, However, Have Called In Conciliators.

Special to The Star. New York, Aug. 9.—Representatives of the railways, confronted with an overwhelming vote by 400,000 employees in favor of a strike, today proposed mediation by the Federal board of mediation and conciliation, when they met with representatives of the four employees' brotherhoods. The reply of the railroads was delivered by Elsha G. Lee, of the Pennsylvania.

On behalf of the employees, A. B. Garretson, head of the conductors' brotherhood, declined to accept mediation, declaring the employees had found arbitration unsatisfactory in previous instances, and, furthermore, that the two sides were in a position to confer directly without an intermediary.

Lee responded that regardless of the attitude taken by the employees, the representatives of the railways would attempt to enlist the services of the Federal mediation board.

Mr. Lee's announcement came after Mr. Garretson had expressed his willingness to have the railroads make the appeal, in that event, he said, the unions could make a reply as to their attitude to the Federal Board. This reply, Mr. Garretson indicated after adjournment of the meeting, would probably be favorable.

Judge W. L. Chambers, chairman of the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation, announced the adjournment of the meeting, that the railroads had formally appealed to the board to mediate their differences with the unions.

A special meeting of Council will be held at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning to consider the matter.

TORONTO HOTELS ASK A FIXED ASSESSMENT

Plea Is Made That All Must Be Treated Exactly Alike.

MEETING TO-MORROW

If King Edward Intends to Close Other Hostelties Do Not.

The King Edward, the Queen's and the Carlisle-Rite Hotels, and the Walker House made application before the Board of Control to-day for fixed assessment as a result of the recent prohibition legislation passed by the Ontario Government to come into effect next month. Their requests were only symptomatic of what all the hotels in the city were desiring, according to the Mayor, who stated that he had received numerous enquiries from the smaller hotels as to what the city was going to do for them.

"The board should give this question a lot of consideration," stated Controller O'Neill. "If legislation is put in the way of preventing the hotels of this city giving the best service, then the city should insure that continued good service by a fixed assessment."

"Then you think that all hotels should be treated similarly?" asked Mayor Church.

"Certainly do," replied the controller. "As a citizen, that is how it appeals to me."

"But this means that we shall lose a considerable source of revenue," protested the Mayor. "If these applications are granted it means that we shall lose our business tax and half our revenue."

"The question is," stated Controller O'Neill emphatically, "are we as a large city of the American continent to have a hotel system worthy of such?"

Says King Edward Was a Gamble.

"The King Edward Hotel was built some years ago at a cost of $2,500,000, and was a gamble from the beginning," stated Mr. George McCann, solicitor for the company, who stated that last year it was assessed $1,500,000 on real and personal property, with a business assessment of $296,832. The hotel situation sided over to the city for some time, but now the hotel is losing money day by day. Last year the hotel actually paid no interest on its dividends. The rates are 25 or 35 per cent. lower now than they were some years ago.

"The matter is this," said the Mayor, "the city is not only going to lose the revenue from the changed liquor legislation, but these applications want also to lose the business tax as well as part of the assessment."

"The restaurant rates are high," declared Manager W. C. Bailey, of the King Edward, "because we have to pay 42 per cent. on all the liquor used."

"It is the principle that is involved about which I am concerned," declared Mayor Church. "We should not treat hotels differently. This application if we had not received the one from the new hotel company, asking for a fixed assessment on the proposed two million dollar hotel on Yonge street?" asked Mayor Church.

"Certainly," replied Manager Bailey, "we had determined to do so before we heard of the proposed hotel."

When the Board of Control had heard the views of the deputation, they decided to hold the matter over and call a special meeting of the Board of Control to determine the line of action they should take.

Can't Go On at a Loss.

"We cannot go on, unless we get some assistance," said W. C. Bailey, manager of the King Edward Hotel. "We cannot charge much more, so you see the situation."

It was pointed out to The Star to-day that the duty on fruits, vegetables, etc., from the south, played its part in keeping expenses up, and that the Prohibition Act was a heavy blow.

"Toronto people don't eat away from their houses as Americans do, and this fact explains the relatively small local revenue."

Other Hotels to Stay Open.

A poll of the big hotels has found no intention of closing, with the exception of the King Edward. The Queen's, Walker, Carlisle-Rite, and Bay Tree, announced their policy some time ago.

"I have no intention of closing," said Mr. Mossop of the Hotel Mossop, when interviewed to-day. "As to the tax reduction, etc., if there is such a thing, it should apply to all. We'll remain open, so far as I know," said the manager of the Iroquois.

A special meeting of Council will be held at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning to consider the matter.
